And Finally ...

Perfect for at-home runner, Bigfoot Athens is designed especially for fitness, thanks to its folding treadmill that disappears once the physical activity is over, going from a floor space of 160x70 cm to zero in a gesture.

Integratable into the wall when designing and renovating the building, adjacent to an existing wall or free-standing and self-supporting, Bigfoot is available in two versions: Architectural, for cladding in plasterboard sheets or similar, and Interior, with provision for panelling or rigid panels. Fully customisable according to specific needs, both versions do not require a building permit, speeding up and simplifying installation.
