

FEATURED PRODUCT

Franmara

SEE PAGE 20

FEATURED PRODUCT

Ecozy

SEE PAGE 20

FEATURED PRODUCT

The French Farm

SEE PAGE 21

www.kitchenwarenews.com

Kitchenware News

& Housewares Review

Vol. 31 • Issue 5
September 2025 • $7.00

SCIC's Rossena Exists Between Materiality, Color & Innovation

Super Cucine Italiane Componibili has always been synonymous with craftsmanship, innovation, and made in Italy excellence. Each SCIC kitchen is the result of a 100 percent Italian production chain, where manufacturing expertise and technological research come together to create functional, sustainable and visually striking solutions.

Among the models unveiled at Milan Design Week 2025, Rossena – designed by Ballabeni & Catellani

Cont. on page 12

Advertiser Index ..... 22

Hestan Culinary Rolls Out Premium Cookware

SEE PAGE 3

Nalgene Outdoor launches Collaboration with AtomicChild

SEE PAGE 4

Into the XLight: Porcelanosa Tiles Evoke Nature

SEE PAGE 7

the essence of rhythm

Noël & Marquet presents Allegretto

Inspired by the raw beauty of nature and the fluidity of musical composition, Noël & Marquet presents “The Essence of Rhythm,” a striking new collection of 3D wall panels. Exploring sequential patterns, organic textures and the shapes of domestic landscapes, this collection reflects the brand’s deep-rooted connection to its Belgian heritage.

The Allegretto wall panel takes its name from a musical tempo that combines lightness and determination. Characterised by a linear, bold and asymmetrical pattern, Allegretto transforms surfaces into dynamic and modern wall compositions. The mineral inspiration of its textures adds rhythm, depth and a refined materiality to any environment, creating a perfect balance between visual expressiveness and architectural functionality.

Allegretto is also available in the Flex version, designed to decorate rounded surfaces such as curved walls, ceilings or columns with a bold character. This flexible variant maintains the same formal language, allowing for creative and engaging architectural solutions that enhance the decorative potential of interiors.

Designed to transform walls, ceilings and even furniture into architectural elements, the new elements presented by Noël & Marquet introduce a new perspective and new possibilities in interior design. Together with the new finishing profiles and skirting boards, the panels are available now.

Proudly designed and manufactured in Belgium, Allegretto is a creation of Belgian product designer Bertrand Lejoly. Having collaborated with visionaries such as Matteo Thun and Vincent Van Duysen, Lejoly brings a refined sensibility to design, where each element is thoughtfully connected to its architectural environment.

Allegretto is available through Noël & Marquet retailers and wholesalers. Find a detailed overview of the product and more inspiration in the “The Essence of Rhythm” catalog, available for download from the Noël & Marquet website. KN